

If you answer NO to ANY of these questions, your practice's medical record are at risk.

1. Do you backup your computer files?
2. Have you ever tried to recover data from your current backup system?
3. Are you sure your data is backed up on a daily basis?
4. Do you get notifications of success or errors in backup?
5. Can you guarantee that your backed up data is secure and proprietary?
6. Can you recover lost data if your offices are not accessible?
7. Can you access backed up data from your desktop whenever you need it? Or, in a remote location?
8. Is your system immune to computer viruses that could wipe out your hard drives?
9. Can you predict or control hardware malfunctions?
10. Does your company have the time and money (approx. $10,000 per MB) to recreate lost data from improper backup systems?
